

STANDARD NEWS AGENCY, KNOXVILLE, TENN.

This quaintly named point on the Appalachian Trail—four miles northwest of Newfound Gap—is the destination of many hiking trips in the Great Smokies. This jagged point is no more rugged than other near-by peaks along the Sawtooth section of the Great Smokies. Its extreme ruggedness, however, was exposed to view when that spot was swept by fire in 1925.

GENUINE CURTEICH-CHICAGO "C.T. ART-COLORTONE" POST CARD (REG. U.S.PAT.OFF.)

POST CARD

PLACE
ONE CENT
STAMP
HERE

A-2—Charlies Bunion (West Side), Great Smoky Mountains National Park

4B-H461